Thinking Actively in a Social Context

TASC Newsletter February 2013

The TASC team hope that the spring weather will bring better conditions after the cold winter!

Good news! We are launching a new TASC Award!

Schools are invited to submit a portfolio of their TASC work to gain a TASC Accreditation Award.

The award can be achieved at either Silver (intermediate) or Gold (advanced) levels.

This means that schools can celebrate their TASC work by displaying a TASC Accreditation Certificate, and by using the TASC logo on school newsletters and correspondence.

For further details and cost please contact Belle directly.

Belle will provide guidelines for assembling the portfolio of TASC work and she will mentor schools to success by corresponding by email.

TASC Training

Are you flying high with regard to TASC problem-solving and thinking skills? Or does your school or cluster need TASC training?

Or, do you need a revision to include new members of staff?

We can conduct one or two-day training sessions.

The one-day training is an introduction to the TASC Framework which equips teachers to begin using the TASC Wheel for structuring project work immediately.

The two-day training shows teachers how they can embed TASC fully across the curriculum. Day 2 also includes assessment of learners' problem-solving capacities.

For more details, please contact tasc@dobcroft-inf.sheffield.uk

Training is available for teachers at Key Stages 1 and 2.

TASC Resources

We have a bank of images including TASC Wheels with words and with icons. These can be stored on your school computer network so that teachers and pupils have access to sections of the TASC Wheel for use in problem-solving projects.

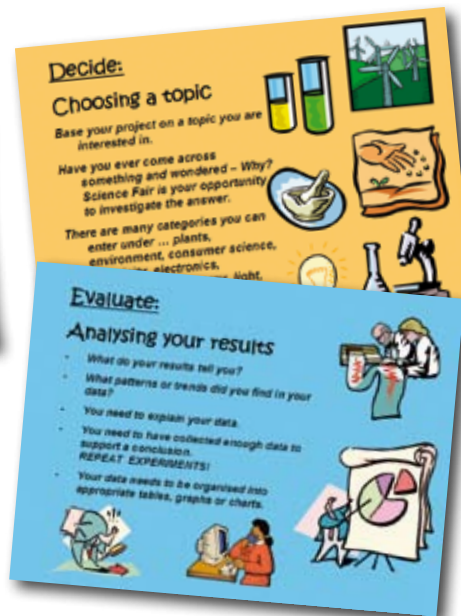

We also have TASC classroom posters (words and icons), TASC project books, TASC wipe-clean boards, and A5 project poster cards.
